

THE PROSTITUTION FILES

Paradoxis discovered that aether god's future self, the evil god, learned how to manipulate the outcomes of his past self the present form of the good god by affecting the present world.

Aether's future evil self traveled back into the past to our present times to affect our present world of the aether's present good self for his/her future world; a future structured mixed world where good is the workforce & evil is the enforcer while aiming to save itself by molding & forging all three aspects of the aether's past, present & future selves into a balanced universal mind. Knowing what drives humanity is love & affection, the aether's future evil self harmed christianity's monogamous world by twisting their own ignorant minds into creating their own opposites; to cause monogamists to create their own oppositions by causing them to kill the ones that they hated, the few prostitutes. A decision that resulted in more prostitution after mankind's love was affected.

What remained from the monogamous population resulted in prostitution, because there were not enough lovers to couple up together. All the extra men with no couples were to turn gay or share the wives of the other couples & it would've been more sinful for men to turn gay. So the good hearted women with love for people turned into the very same prostitutes that their elders killed in the first place. All with the good heart & faith to care for those in need while believing & realizing that we have one life to live & that there was & is no guarantee of an after life in eternal heaven. So they cared for what little they have remaining & that is the present life to live as good as possible.

Aether's evil future self knew what the aether's good present self did not know & that was that the present world would either turn to sin or turn to evil after the aether's evil future self's manipulations to reshape the universe's timeline for the restart of the paradox. The present order of paradoxis knows that manipulating the outcomes of civilization for good could be beneficial to keep this world good & that it doesn't have to be dark manipulations from the aether's future self for its evil world (etc).

EVIL REIGNS IN THE HEARTS of MANKIND WHEN THEIR JEALOUSY & RAGE MIX TOGETHER WHILE LACKING WISDOM of TRUE GOOD

All of this is part of the reasons that the present aether's good self, the good god, teaches mankind to leave it to god for god to decide judgement & not to take judgement into their own hands. The present aether knows that mankind is not as intelligent as its future form the evil god, the evil future self of the aether that knows how to manipulate the outcomes of all living beings. Although the future aether's self does it for the betterment of all living beings, the present aether & mankind want a good world. So the good god teaches mankind what they need to succeed in his/her favor by doing good. True good doesn't harm others out of jealousy or hate for doing things that one doesn't like doing. Mankind is freewilled, but small minded & freewill could result in change sooner. Especially with a small mind that could be tricked & manipulated by the gigantic minds of the aether's titan selves. Therefore good god teaches that mankind should follow their present lord if they seek to keep this world good, for as long as it could be kept good. "Justice & honor is key."
